THE EMPTY TOMB

Today we celebrate Jesus' ultimate victory over sin and death. We encounter the empty tomb in today's Gospel, this glorious sign of the power God has over the grave. But the Gospel reminds us that this was not so apparent to his disciples on that first Easter morning. Mary Magdalene assumed someone had taken his body. Peter and the other disciple were confused; they couldn't understand. Undoubtedly, they were devastated by Jesus' death and still couldn't think clearly. His crucifixion, they could see. That they could understand...or so they thought. Today's first reading shows how much Peter's understanding grew. After the risen Lord appeared to him and the other disciples, after they received the Holy Spirit, after Jesus commissioned them to preach and baptize and make disciples, Peter could stand in front of a group of Gentiles and confidently testify to Jesus' resurrection and all that had happened before and after. Now, as baptized Christians, this is our commission. Through words and action, through the charity we do and the prayers we offer, through our works of mercy and love, we bear witness to the Easter message: He has been raised. He is with us always.

How can you give witness to our Easter joy, today and always?

—We Celebrate Worship Resource, Vol. 49, No. 1

LA TUMBA VACÍA

Hoy celebramos la victoria definitiva de Jesús sobre el pecado y la muerte. Encontramos la tumba vacía en el Evangelio de hoy, este signo glorioso del poder que Dios tiene sobre la tumba. Pero el Evangelio nos recuerda que esto no fue tan evidente para sus discípulos aquella primera mañana de Pascua. María Magdalena supuso que alguien se había llevado su cuerpo. Pedro y el otro discípulo estaban confundidos; no podían entender. Sin duda, estaban devastados por la muerte de Jesús y todavía no podían pensar con claridad. Pudieron ver su crucifixión. Que podían entender...o eso pensaban. La primera lectura de hoy muestra cuánto creció la comprensión de Pedro. Después de que el Señor resucitado se apareció a él y a los otros discípulos, después de que recibieron el Espíritu Santo, después de que Jesús les comisionó a predicar, bautizar y hacer discípulos, Pedro pudo pararse frente a un grupo de gentiles y testificar con confianza de la resurrección de Jesús y de todo lo que había sucedido antes y después. Ahora, como cristianos bautizados, esta es nuestra comisión. A través de las palabras y las acciones, de la caridad que hacemos y de las oraciones que ofrecemos, de nuestras obras de misericordia y de amor, damos testimonio del mensaje pascual: Ha resucitado. Él está con nosotros siempre.

¿Cómo puedes dar testimonio de nuestra alegría pascual, hoy y siempre?

—We Celebrate Worship Resource, Vol. 49, No. 1
